Chapter 1 by Eagle Rex

Ryan sat on a chair, in a room consisting of two chairs, one table, one mirror and a whole lot of emptiness. He never liked being alone, but loneliness was his fate now. His mind was full of thoughts, thoughts of the future and the past. He was thinking about what he could have done differently that would have saved his from his dark future. He knew what he did was wrong, but he didn't do it intentionally. He got up from his chair and walked towards the mirror located on the wall right in front of him. He looked at his reflection and punched the mirror saying "What Have You Done Ryan!". A few moments later, the investigator walked into the room. He told Ryan to sit on the chair. He said to Ryan "You have killed 64 people in one month, one of which was your own father. Would you mind explaining the whole story?".

Ryan was suffering from anxiety. All he had in his life was his family, which was brutally murdered a year ago. He watched his wife and daughter die right in front of his, but he couldn't do anything to save them. He used to think about this over and over again. This thought put him in the Dark State Of Mind, known as Anxiety. He wanted revenge. He knew that revenge would not bring his family back to life, but revenge was on his mind now. So he went on a search for the killers. He swore to kill anyone he had to kill to find the killers. Which was one of the many wrong choices he made, but it was the biggest one.
